No. 3083

THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 1744.

Yesterday arriv'd the Mails due from Holland, France, and Flanders.

Petersburgh, January 1.

I GHT hundred Sledges are kept in constant Readiness for the Czarina's Journey to Moscow, which remains now fixed to this Day sevennight; and it is said, that for the future the Empress will go thither every Summer, and spend her Winters at Petersburgh. She has likewise taken a definitive

Resolution with respect to the Succours demanded by the Swedes, which are fixed at 400,000 Rubles to be paid quarterly; and to commence immediately upon the King of Denmark's declaring War, or committing any Act of Hostility.

Stockholm, January 3. We are in continual Agitation here, in reference to the new Schemes formed by the French Court, to put all the North into a Flame again. The Marquis de Lanmarie, Minister from his most Christian Majesty, having received Bills of Exchange for a very large Sum of Money, has declared to our Ministers, that he is ready to pay 250,000 Dollars, in part of the Subsidies due from his Master to this Crown; and that he expects to be speedily able to pay the Remainder. The Baron de Scheffer is appointed Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of Versailles, and has Instructions to settle the Preliminaries for renewing the Alliance between the Crowns of France and Sweden. M. Kangstid, Minister from the Duke of Mecklinburgh, who was arrested here in the Year 1741, and set at Liberty again by Order of the last Dyt, was a few Days ago seized, and sent to Prison a second time by an Order from the Senate, who have appointed a Committee to examine his Papers. He is charged, it is said, with carrying on dangerous Correspondences both here and at Petersburgh; and what gives this the more Credit, is General Keith's dispatching an Express as soon as he was seized, giving an Account of it to his Court.

Florence, January 5. Some of our Gentlemen Soldiers here have been put into terrible Confusion. We had levied about 1000 Men, under the Title of the Queen's Regiment, of which they were not a little proud. They had been some time in Garrison at Leghorn, from whence they were marched hither a few Days ago, under a Notion of going into Garrison again. This Morning they were drawn out into the Center of two Battalions, and a Regiment of Dragoons; after which, the Word of Command was immediately given to march for Bologna. Our Soldiers, upon this, were quite in a Maze, and declared, they could not think of Marching; but they were given to understand, that this Resolution came too late; and that willing or not willing, they must go and learn a little of the Art of War under Prince Lobkowitz. Our last Advices from the Army of that Prince assure us, that he is making the necessary Dispositions for straining the Spaniards in their Quarters; and this very Morning an Express arrived with certain Intelligence, that the Spaniards perceiving that his Highness will be speedily able either to force them to a Battle upon very unequal Terms, or to deprive them of Subsistence, had set fire to their fortified Posts, and begun their Retreat for the Kingdom of Naples.

Venice, January 11. The Baron de Hagen, the Counts Bathiani and Aversperg, set out this Morning for the Courts of Berlin, Dresden, and Wolfentzettel, in order to notify the Marriage of Prince Charles with the Archduchess Mary-Anne. We continue to march Troops from Hungary and Transylvania, towards the Borders of Silesia, and to take every other Precaution, with as much Diligence, as if a War with a certain Court was on the very Point of being declared. Orders have been expedited for sending a new Reinforcement into Italy, and for putting his Sardinian-Majesty in Possession of the Districts yielded him by the Treaty of Worms, in a Fortnight or three Weeks Time at furthest; upon which his Minister here insisted very strenuously, as on a Point which would admit of no Delay.

Dresden, January 11. It is certain, that our Court has sent Orders to its Ministers at the Dyt of Frankfort, to concur with those of the Queen of Hungary, and the Elector of Hanover, in relation to the Affairs of the Dystatute; and it is no less certain, that 12,000 of our Troops are actually to enter into the Queen of Hungary's Service, in order to be employed on the Defensive only; which, however, will afford her Hungarian Majesty an Opportunity of employing so many more of her own Troops as she pleases. The Journey of our

Court to Warsaw, is put off to the Month of March; and some People doubt, whether it will take Place even then; tho' the only Reason assigned for putting it off so long, is, that Prince Charles and the Arch-duchess are not expected here till the Middle of February, and the Queen has made it her Request to entertain them in their Passage.

Extract from the Paris Almanac. Paris, Jan. 21.

'His Majesty has granted a general Indemnity to all the Deserters as shall enrol themselves in the Regiment which his Majesty has been pleased to give M. de Grasfin Leave to raise.

'The King has been pleased to name the Regiments that follow to compose the Army of the Prince of Conti; viz. The Regiments of Horse are that of the Commissary-General, Dauphin Francois, Royal Piemont, Conti, de la Rochefoucaud, and Chabot; and the Dragoons are those of the Queen and Languedoc.

'Some Days ago there arrived at Court three Cutters; one from Franckfort, another from Berlin, and a third from Chambery; but, as yet, there is not a Word of the News they brought from abroad.

'The last Letters from Toulon inform us, that M. de Court went on board his Ship on the 15th, as well as all the other Captains of his Squadron; and that there are arrived there four very large Men of War, which are to serve as Transports.

Copy of a Private Letter from Brest.

'We are now in the Road, to the Number of fourteen Men of War, and we expect to be very speedily joined by five new Ships, which are just off the Stocks. A Ship from Rochelle is arrived in our Port, which has on board 10,000 Fuzils, and as many Bayonets, for the use of the Army that is to be sent to Italy; and they are to be put on board the Squadron of M. du Barail, which is to be composed of four Ships out of our Number; they are likewise to carry a proportionable Number of Musket Bullets, other Ammunition, and six Field Pieces, carrying Ball of 12 Pound each.'
